Let's Pray!

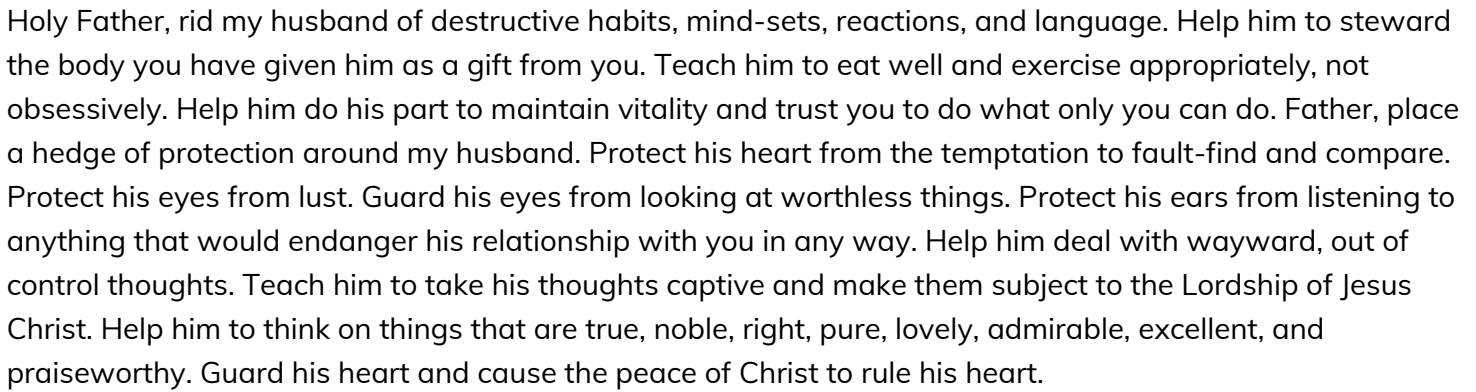

Most Holy God, thank you for the opportunity to come before you and bless your Name. You are worthy of honor and glory and it is a privilege to know you and be called by your Name. I thank you that all good gifts in my life come from You, my Heavenly Father, the Father of light, including the gift of my husband. I lift him up before you in prayer, according to your word.

Father, no man comes to you unless you draw Him by your Holy Spirit, and give to that man a desire to know you. Father, I ask that you would draw my husband, place in his heart a desire to know, give him a hunger and thirst for righteousness, remove anything in his heart that resists your love, goodness, lordship and direction. Give him a heart that is pliable and yielded to your word and your ways. As you draw near to him, help him to observe your holiness and respond like Isaiah, by bowing his knees in worship and service to you and you alone. I pray my husband would develop a holy distaste the things of the world, let the things that displease you become abominable to him. Father, give him a healthy appetite for your word. As he opens up your word help him to discover your character, your nature, your ways. Captivate his heart, and help him to see there is nothing or anyone that compares to you.

Father, bless my husband in his relationships with me, the children, and others. Let the love of God that is shed abroad in his heart by the Holy Spirit, be evident in how he treats us and deals with us. Bless him to be a husband who dwells with me with understanding. Help me to honor him and love him in a way that builds him up. Help me to influence him in a way that points him to Jesus. Help me to celebrate him, and not burden him with expectation to meet needs only you can meet. I pray that the law of kindness would be in his mouth and wisdom which comes from you would guide his decisions. Father, help him to be a discerning man of discretion, one who is not quick to presume but one who is quick to hear, seeks to understand before responding, is temperate and exerts self-control and speaks only after careful consideration. Father, send godly, trusted men to mentor him, encourage him, be a friend, and hold him accountable to your truth. Help him to humble himself to receive your words of truth.

Heavenly Father, my husband bares the responsibility of leading this family. I recognize that it can feel like a heavy load, but your promise is that those who are heavy burdened can come to you and find rest for their souls. Father, teach my husband to run to you with every burden. Help him to be a man who humbly recognizes his need for you and that you are able to strengthen, direct, and enable him for everything you have called him to do. Help him to trust you with our future and not give in to news cycles reporting financial calamity, doom and gloom. Guard his thoughts so he does not spiral into worry and remind him that as he commits our finances to you he can trust you to supply all of our need. Teach him to manage what you have entrusted in his hands and teach me to be a help to him in this area of our family life. Father, arrest any fear in his heart so that he can be a generous giver. Help him to honor you in his giving, spending, and saving. Bless the work of his hands and cause him to honor you in all he does.

Father, help my husband to not be ignorant concerning the schemes of the enemy. Teach him to cast aside every lie of the enemy. Help my husband to be diligent to immediately close every opening he tries to take advantage of and resist every attempt he makes to destroy my husband. Thank you for directing his steps. Give him eyes to see things from your perspective so that he will not lose sight of what is important. Thank you for directing his steps. Thank you that your purpose for him prevails. Help him to hear your voice clearly, to know the truth Jesus said, and to love you bone-deep. I pray he lives a life worthy of the calling of God on his life, with all humility and gentleness, bearing with others in love.

Father, help him to have full confidence in you, because your word is irreversible, your character is immutable, and your nature is irreproachable. Help him to build his life on your word. Cover him with your peace. I commit my husband into your capable hands. I ask this in the matchless name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, Amen.
